COMMENCEMENT.

Commencement is here. To some it means only a time for rest. They will resume their studies at Proctor High School in September.

For the Seniors it is the day that we have looked forward to with much anticipation and joy. It means victory for us—we have reached the goal. We will receive our diplomas for our years of labor.

But, nevertheless, is not Commencement a time of sorrow, too? It is the time of parting. As a class we have worked and played together. We have had our bright days and our gloomy ones. We have formed many lasting friendships. We are all proud to call ourselves students of Proctor High School.

Our teachers have been faithful throughout our school days. They have guided us on the right road. Many are leaving with us. We shall always recall the happy days spent together. Wherever they may go we wish them great success.

In leaving Proctor High School, some of us intend to go still further in the pursuit of knowledge; others will begin their life-work immediately. No matter where we may be we shall always remember the happy days together at Proctor High School.

"The Sutherland" Editorial Board wishes to take this opportunity to express its thanks and appreciation for the support and co-operation given to us by the school. We have tried to improve the magazine. May next year's magazine be the biggest and best yet.

In closing we wish each graduate the best of success and urge the under-classmen to always uphold the name of our Alma Mater—Proctor High School.

PRECIOUS MEMORIES

Wherever we graduates may go, for some reason or other, there are certain things which we cannot forget. When we realize that our high school course has been completed, a time of recalling happy memories comes to us.

When, later on, we shall recall our years spent at Proctor High School, we shall not be able to forget the location of our school—"queen of the mountains", as is worded the school song. The large, beautiful campus and the many opportunities for recreation will recall more than one happy day.

Which one of us will not enjoy recalling the special assemblies held before athletic contests? The words of the many songs and the cheers will fire us with enthusiasm. We shall not forget the annual bazaars held at Christmas time. In recalling them we shall always feel that we have helped to make them successful.

And lastly, we shall not forget our teachers and school-mates. How much they have done for us! We know that their spirit, encouragement, and willingness to aid us have been instrumental in our achievements.

We hope that Proctor High School will always show its fine sportsmanship in athletics; that the Students' Association will bring better harmony between the student-body and the faculty, and that all unfinished work left by us will be brought to a successful end by those whom we leave behind.

T. L. '25.

EDITORIAL

We, the new editors, have been given the honor of being selected as editors of "The Sutherland" for the ensuing year. We shall, to the best of our ability, carry on the work of publishing the school paper. In carrying on this work we desire the co-operation of the student body and of the townspeople.

J. H. '26.

CHALLENGE FOR 1925-6

The final number of "The Sutherland" for this year is indeed a fitting place for a few words from a representative of the Faculty. This is a message of sincere appreciation for the spirit of co-operation that has been manifested again and again during these months of school activities—not merely at times when there was no particular cause of distraction but also on those occasions when special forethought, self-restraint and concentration were essential to worthy endeavor. No one would maintain that all should be marked 100 per cent in this matter, for that is ideal. Even though a few members of the school may have failed to exhibit this spirit sufficiently to secure commendation, the attainment in general has been high. Who knows but what the time will come when the student body of Proctor High School instead of the Faculty will be writing this message of appreciation. And is that so unreasonable? For this, students of Proctor High, is in a certain sense, your school. It is yours to maintain at the high standing which it has held in the past. It is yours to develop into even a greater place of opportunity than your home yet dreamed of. To let this challenge go unheeded will not be like you; to accept it will be a further manifestation of the Proctor High School spirit.

Suggestions for the Platform of Next Year's*EDITORIAL BOARD

1. The establishment of a permanent "Sutherland" fund.
2. Exact accounts supervised by the Commercial Department.
3. A board of three auditors.
4. More advertisements.
5. More regular subscriptions.
6. One place in the school building for "Sutherland" property.
7. Selection of definite dates at the beginning of the school year for the appearance of the three numbers.
8. A list of the most ardent supporters in each issue.
9. The organization of a Latin and French department.
10. Revision of the constitution.

SPECIAL BASKET BALL ASSEMBLY

The basket ball men received their letters in assembly, April 24. Coach Luddington and different members of the team spoke. There were also school songs and cheers.

ARBOR DAY

For several days study hall was filled with bird houses of all shapes and sizes. On April 29, Mr. Luddington gave prizes to the following who had made the best ones: Class I, Joseph Hadeka, Ben Ladabouche, Bertil Wener; Class II, Adrian Curtis and Alfredo Bacceti; Class III, Viljo Mackie and Joseph Listzwan.

The poem "Trees" was given by Clara Zapponi, and appropriate essays were read by Viljo Mackie and Oiva Salmi.

CLEAN-UP DAY

Clean-Up Day was observed on April 30. The School Service Committee assigned each class its particular job on the campus. The place looked better after we had finished.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION

A Teachers' Convention was held in Rutland, May 1 and 2. The Students were free Friday afternoon. (We wish conventions would come oftener.)

SUTHERLAND DANCE

The editors of "The Sutherland" gave a dance, May 8, in the Town Hall.

CHAMPION GIRLS' TEAM RECEIVES LETTERS

The Senior Girls' basket ball team received their letters May 8. Mr. Lawton spoke to them about clean sportsmanship.

PICTURE CONTEST

As a prize for winning the picture contest Class III was presented, by Mrs. Fay, with "The Bridge of Sighs", a picture which she took herself on her trip abroad. Class III had 46 of the 55 pictures and statues in the building correct.

"WEENIE" ROAST

The Commercial Students of Class 5 gave a "weenie" roast May 20. They invited the rest of the class. Everybody ate so many "dogs" that they could be heard barking a mile away.

PARENT-TEACHERS' MEETING

The Parent-Teachers' Association had an interesting meeting, May 12. The program consisted of a play by the Junior Glee Club and one by Miss Squires' grade. There was a party afterwards for Miss Serri. She was presented with a travelling case.

SPELLING CONTEST

The spelling contest of the grades was won by Cecilia Fortier and Hester Syrjanen, with Marion Gallipo and Anna Luciani as alternates.

TALK BY MISS ALLISON

Miss Allison of the Samaritan Hospital, Troy, New York, gave an interesting talk on "The Vocation of Nursing" to the girls of the four upper classes, on May 19.

MEMORIAL DAY

Pre-Memorial Day Exercises were held in the Assembly Hall, May 29. The school helped furnish the program for the Town Hall Exercises, May 30. All classes marched to the cemetery with the Legion.

FACULTY NOTES

Miss Serri, who has been a teacher here for several years, left May 16 for New York and on May 23 sailed for Cararra, Italy, where she is to be married. Mrs. Roberts of Burlington is taking her place.

Miss Parker and Miss Langwill have had their hair cut. Miss Lewis says she is going to next but we don't believe her.

Mr. Lawton expects to be back with us next September.

Miss Parker is going to teach in Union City, New Jersey.

Miss Langwill will teach in Oneonta, New York.

Miss Lewis says she will reside in Poultney, Vermont, but many of us think differently.

Miss Pollard, Mr. Luddington, Mrs. Hoyt, Miss Brooks, and Miss Armstrong will come back to give us their services next year.

Mrs. Fay will reside on South Street.

Mrs. Rhea L. Roberts will teach in Enosburg Falls, Vermont.

Miss Atwood will reside in Woodstock, Vermont.

Mr. Wyman will be an instructor at the Lawrenceville School, Lawrenceville, New Jersey.

THE MYSTERY OF THE CARBINE

"Going anywhere today, Tom?" called Charlie Field to his friend Tommy Banks.

"Sure, guess I'll try my luck at fishing down by the big oak," replied Tom.

"Mind if I ramble along with you?"

"No, not as long as you bring your own bait."

"All right, I'll meet you at one o'clock at your house."

"Suits me."

They met as agreed and sauntered along toward the brook, discussing the happenings of the day. They soon reached the oak and sitting down in its shade leisurely baited their hooks. Tom was the first to pull up a fish, a small trout weighing close to a pound. Charlie waited patiently and then began to tug at what seemed to him a large whale.

"Pull a little harder," suggested Tom.

"It will break my line and then I can't fish," was the answer.

"Can you see what's on the end of your line?" asked Tommy.

"No, but if I get out from behind these bushes I will scare the fish," explained Charlie.

"Well, if you're not going to do anything about it, I am!" exclaimed Tommy. So he went to the edge of the pool, took a stick and poked at the mud near the line.

"I knew that it was a snag," said Tom after a little. "Now we've got to get it out." And so he worked hard and then he pulled on the line a little.

"Oh, do you see that shinny thing down there?" asked Charlie.

"Yes, I guess I do!" replied Tom, redoubling his efforts.

After quite a little trouble and work they pulled the object to the surface. It was a carbine. Both of the boys cried out in surprise.

Finally, Tom broke the silence and said, "It doesn't look as if it had been there long."

"I wonder if this has anything to do with that murder that happened over in Youngton a month ago? You know that the police are still working on the case and it was said that they hadn't found any clue either," said Charlie.

"Well, let's go home and take this to the sheriff," put in Tom.

"All right," said Charlie.

"What's that, youngsters?" called a gruff voice.

"Who's that Charlie?" said Tom.

"Oh, I bet it's the gink that put the gun here," said Charlie.

"I say, let's run," said Tom.

"You said it."

The boys turned to run but a large hand reached out and caught Tom.

"You boys ain't going to the sheriff's office, if I know it, yur comin' with me," said the man. As he said this he took the boys back into the woods.

"Where are you taking us?" asked Tom.

"I'm taking yur where yur won't snitch on me," was his answer.

They walked along and soon came in sight of an old barn. He took them in there, and tied them. He then lit a fire and threw the gun into it.

"Now, my fine boys, I'll hev time to get away before any help comes to ya. You'll have help because old Brown will see his barn burning. So long."

"Tom, quick! you are nearest, get that gun before the fire gets it! Be careful and don't touch it, for we want the finger marks to be on it when they examine the gun."

"But, Charlie, how can I? I am tied hand and foot."

"Well, wriggle or roll over, never mind the heat. Give it a kick."

Tom rolled over and kicked it. With a thud it landed outside the door. Tom, who was a frail lad, was weak from exhaustion and could not roll away. He didn't speak when Charlie called to him, so Charlie thought that Tom must have fainted. The little tongues of fire were licking up the wisps of hay on the floor, and Tom was right in the path of them. Charlie was in despair.

"Tom, Tom, can't you hear me? Roll towards me, quick!" But, alas, there was no response!

Meanwhile, in Rosenburg, the town where Charlie and Tom lived, all was as quiet as usual. Old men and women were gossiping on their front porches. Down the street, breaking the monotony of stillness, the groups heard the galloping of a horse's feet. A girl went by on horseback.

"There goes that 'tom boy' again," said Mrs. O'Malley. "She'll break her neck some day, she will."

"Yes, the young hussy, many's the time I've ketched her stealing my apples. Never a thing does she do but ride that old hoss of her'n," responded Mrs. Green.

Down the road she went with a clatter. She stopped. What did she see? Flames! She started with a gallop, swung off the saddle, and ran. She heard Charlie's cries for help.

"Charlie! Tom!" was all Winifred could say.

"Never mind, get Tom out quick. Can't you see the barn will be all in a blaze if we don't get out?"

Being a strong girl, she dragged Charlie out. She went to drag out Tom, but a burning rafter hit her. She was determined not to give in just then, when she was needed the most. She dragged herself over, grabbed Tom and got out safely.

"You're not hurt very much, Winifred?" asked Charlie.

"Never mind about me, what has happened?"

Charlie thought quickly, then said, "Let me take your horse, Winifred will you?"

"Yes, take it. I will take care of Tom here."

Charlie got on and in no time he was at the sheriff's with the gun. He told his story with haste, and soon searchers from the surrounding towns were looking for their man. He was found in an old deserted farm house. He told his story. He was the leader of the gang who transported liquor through the town of Youngton to an old summer hotel, which was closed now. A policeman, Mr. Woreley, had tracked them. "Wild Cat Bill", the prisoner, had killed him by jumping out from the bushes and stabbing him. He had thrown the body of his victim into the marshes near-by. He had also thrown the gun into the lake by the big oak, where Tom and Charlie had gone fishing, to rid himself of all evidence of the murder. The boys found out that they had caught one of Boston's biggest crooks and murderers. They received a handsome reward from the Police Department for all their trouble. Winifred received her share also, for if she hadn't ridden by, probably there would have been an altogether different ending to the story.

QU'EST-CE QU'UN AMERICAIN?

A l'occasion de la fete de Noel, le consul d'Amerique a Malte avait reuni a sa table quelques Anglais de distinction et deux ou trois de ses compatriotes qui se trouvaient de passage dans l'île. On vient a parler du nouveau monde et, naturellement, les Americains disent beaucoup de bien de leur pays, et surtout de ses habitants. A la fin, un des Anglais un peu impatiente s'ecrie: "Mais, apres tout, que sont les Americains? Un Americain, c'est . . . c'est . . . et il s'arrete, cherchant le mot. C'est un Anglais perfectionne," acheve le consul.

Les Domestiques occupees

Un imbecile, enrichi subitement par un heritage, avait entendu dire qu'un homme comme il faut avoir au moins deux domestiques. Comme ses moyens lui permettaient ce luxe, il en engagea tout de suite deux, qui se trouvaient fort bien d'une condition ou on les payait bien pour ne rien faire. Un jour le maître cria à travers la porte de son antichambre: "Etes-vous la, Pierre? Oui, monsieur. Que faites-vous? Rien, monsieur. Et vous, Jean, êtes-vous la? Oui, monsieur, j'aide Pierre. Quand vous aurez fini, vous viendrez me donner mes bottes."

THESE ARE QUOTATIONS FROM THE JUNIOR ESSAYS ON THE SUBJECT: "WAYS IN WHICH I CAN SHOW MY PATRIOTISM"

May 30, 1925 to May 30, 1926.

"Never look down on those poorer than myself, or envy anyone richer than myself." E. U.

"I can show my patriotism by never disgracing or letting anyone else disgrace our nation's flag." H. G.

"We can't all be like George Washington, 'first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen' or like Joan of Arc and lead great armies to victory but we can do the little things that in the end count just as much.

I shall try to follow the 'Ten Commandments of Sportsmanship.'

Thou shalt not cheat.

Thou shalt not quit.

Thou shalt not sulk.

Thou shalt not make excuses.

Thou shalt not boast.

Thou shalt not dispute thy sister's glory.

Thou shalt not ask odds thou'rt unwilling to give.

Thou shalt play for the game's sake.

Thou shalt cooperate for the team's sake.

Thou shalt not dispute the umpire." F. F.

"I shall be willing to take part and do my best in any drive for national funds." S. W.

"As the Stars and Stripes go by I will stand at attention." C. M.

"I shall read as many newspapers as I can to keep in touch with the affairs of our Government." V. B.

QUOTATIONS FROM THE SOPHOMORE HISTORY ESSAYS

HISTORY OF MUSIC:

"In an Egyptian orchestra all the instruments played the air, while the conductor kept time by clapping his hands."

E. B.

RINGS:

"The use of the wedding ring and engagement ring originated from the Jews. The wedding ring is worn on the third finger of the left hand, because it was once supposed that a vein in that finger ran directly to the heart, and heart and hand are offered together."

M. F.

THE EARLY GROWTH OF BUTTONS:

"The use of them, in 1377, was to decorate the handle of a knife, and when an author published a book he put silver buttons on the cover."

FIRE:

"The Egyptians had fire in every temple. The Greeks, Latins, and Prussians, in every town—. When the Greeks started a new colony or a man was married they would take fire from the old one and start theirs with it."

J. D.

THE DRUM STAGE:

"Bells were thought to speak, to be alive, sometimes bells were dressed and arrayed with ornaments not unlike the fetishes."

L. W.

BASEBALL:

"Baseball was popular at the time of the Civil War and the soldiers on both sides played with enthusiasm."

A. C.

OATHS:

"The Chinese have a peculiar custom. When a Chinaman swears to the truth he kneels down and breaks a saucer into pieces."

S. V.

NUMERALS:

"The name zero seems to have come from the Arabic 'sife' through the form of zephyres used by Leonardo."

CLASS POEM

Up the stairs and to the hill tops,
For four years we've worked our way,
Thinking, planning, working,
For our graduation day.

Our motto we have kept before us,
And with mingled work and play
Made the echoes ring out clearly,
"We Can, We Will," each day.

We knew the kind intentions
Of those working for our good,
The untiring help they gave us,
Taught sincere brotherhood.

Our High School days are over,
Some mistakes we leave behind,
But the thoughts and dreams of future,
Have been moulded on our minds.

AS WE SEE OTHERS

"The Winooski High School Banner", Winooski, Vt. Your crossword puzzles are great. We are overjoyed to see a French Department worked up. Put more pep in your stories and make them more adventurous.

"The Riverlet", Rocky River High, Rocky River, Ohio. Why not put your editorial department as the leader? We see you have some intelligent poets and artists over in that part of the country. Your neat cover surely promised us a fine interior.

"The Chronicle", Poultney, Vt. Where's your table of contents? Chronicks are very jovial and your literary department is very interesting. Get your artists busy.

"The Clarion", Fair Haven, Vt. Your idea of a dedication to start us off is unusual. It was interesting to hear that you listened in on the President's Inaugural Speech. We wish we could have, too. Your literary department certainly deserves praise.

"The Academy Student", St. Johnsbury, Vt. You have a splendid section of jokes which we enjoyed immensely.

"The Uniquity Echo", Milton High, has an especially fine joke section. We like the new idea of "The Knocker Club." Your editorial "On Making Excuses" was well prepared.

Grinds

DANIEL ANDERSON

"SLEEPY"

Be not misled by his nickname for he is far from it. Is "Sleepy" a quiet, unassuming little gentleman? Yes! he is not. Once a telegraph operator at a ball game mistook his consistent "Yap", "Yap" for the telegraph code. "E-ow! Let's go!"

ARNOLD ARONSON

"ROSIE"

We've all wondered how you came by the name of "Rosie", Arnold and now that we know, we can't keep it to ourselves. "Rosie" is merely a name given by Arnold to an old "bike" and not the name of an old flame as we had imagined. Does he like girls? Well, rather.

EMIL BACCEI

"EMILIO"

"Where do you want to get hit?" Here we have a black-eyed, dark haired boy. No, girls, he's not exactly a sheik, but he's getting there fast. Come around in two years or so. They say he's interested in Junior girls, but we can't prove it yet.

BRUNO BACCEI

"CAESAR"

If you want a fine chance for an argument just start in with Bruno. Did you notice that "Brun" is getting thin walking up Patch Hill so much!! Let us know when ice cream goes down.

MINA BAIRD

"MINER"

If you want to know about snow storms and snow drifts just ask Mina. She certainly knows all about them. Mina is an expert typist and is sure to make good at Bay Path.

ARMANDO BARDI

"BARD"

Armando is another one of our "be seen and not heard" classmates. Although sometimes it's even hard to see him. "Bard" has lots of pluck and we're sure he'll make a fine M. D.

FRANCIS COLLINS

"RIP", "TITTER"

The boy himself, always ready for fun and frolic. Does he love music? You should hear him play the "sax." He sounds like King Jazz himself. He is over six feet tall, but as he says, "It's the bean that counts."

ANNA CONNOR

"CURLY"

What do you know about it! Curly Connor has reformed. No more tardy marks for her. Office-training is doing her good—making her prompt. Maybe there's a reason. Speak up, Curly!

JOHN DYNAN

"JAKE"

Such a modest boy, but you don't know him. He began to make up during the Senior Play rehearsals. Are you still an Amateur, Johnnie?

ROBERT DONAHUE

"ROB"

"Setting 'em up?" Donahue's favorite words. Doesn't he like ice cream and candy? His ambition is to be a salesman. Judging by the manner in which he secured the orders for Commencement he will be a success.

KATHLEEN FLANAGAN

"KAY"

Kay's a brick in more than one sense. She's also the beacon light of our class. She can make the most abused and discouraged piano come to life again and achieve jazz wonders.

BERTEL GUSTAFSON

"BERT"

"Where's the ice cream?" Bert surely does like ice cream. It is rumored that he ate a quart at one time. Bert is small, but the class thought enough of him to elect him president. He has taken a desire for strawberry growing. We are waiting for the delicious short cake that he promised us three years ago.

RICHARD HAYES

"DICK"

Dick saved Mr. Gibbs much hard work during Basketball season by his constant falls. He tells us that he is to be Chief Draftsman for the Utica Branch of the V. M. Co. Are there any ladies in the Department, Dick?

EMILE LADABOUCHE

"PETE"

Anyone who didn't know Pete would think he was very shy—but we know you, Pete. They do say that he doesn't visit the Hospital because of any illness. Where would the Senior girls be without Pete and his Ford?

WILLIAM LADABOUCHE

"BILL"

"Bill" is a wonder in athletics in our school but he shines a little more in Parlor Athletics. "Be seen and not heard", is Bill's motto. When you want to dictate it's best to have him around.

CECILE LAJOIE

"SIMPLE"

"Simple", a demure little maiden "Came Out of the Kitchen" to grab Valedictorian honors. She has the habit of giggling like a mouse, and whenever we hear "Squeek! Te-he-he" we know it is Cecile.

THOMAS LISTZWAN

"TUNA"

Do you know, we really thought that Thomas would go into business in Castleton. Of course, now that he has a high powered car he can get there at short notice. Thomas is good when it comes to debating.

TONY LUCIANI

"TRIS"

This is our Latin student. If you don't see him at the postoffice by seven in the morning, something serious is the matter, for Tony, as far as we know, has nothing to keep him from his work.

BERNICE MORSE

"BUN"

There's no question about Bun's popularity, especially among the bankers. We understand that she intends to teach kindergarten. We certainly envy the little "tots."

HILDA PASSANI

"BOB"

"You better look out or I'll crown you!" Oh! here is our commercial student. Everybody is going to be sick when Hilda becomes a nurse.

HAZEL POLOSKE

"HAP"

Hazel is so small and quiet that you'd never suspect that she would do anything rash, but we're afraid she does sometimes. Hazel is almost the equal of Kay in some things. It's not hard to guess.

EVELYN SHOGREN

"EV"

When a stranger asks you where Beaver Pond is you "rattle off" certain directions, at any rate you'll tell him that he can't miss it for it's directly south of a large block pile. When someone asks you where "Ev" is you might say "Look around until you find a block of brains for it's likely to be she." Just watch her "block" work in the future.

INA WENER

"INA"

Ina's special characteristics are blushing, shyness, dancing and a love for the opposite sex. Nevertheless she's the best of sports and nothing ever worries her.

SYLVIA WESTIN

"SIV"

Here we have the daughter of Justice of the Peace. Whenever "Siv" strides down the hall, there's no room for anyone else. Sylvia's hobby is athletics. She stars both in basketball and tennis.

MARY WETHERBEE

"MARIA"

My, but it's lots of fun kidding "Maria" about Danby Four Corners. Mary joined us in the Junior year. We've known her for two years and she's a good student and a good sport.

SENIOR CLASS SONG

Good old Proctor High School
Though not in your halls,
We will always answer
When your dear voice calls.
We will always keep you
In our hearts so true,
Dear old Proctor High School—
Here's to you!

The time will always come
In every phase of life,
E'en in joy or sadness or
In peace and strife.
Now the dreaded hour
For us is drawing nigh,
Dear old Proctor High School,
We say good-bye.

Elmer Bowman of the class of 1916 is playing first base for the Birmingham team of the Southern Association.

Inez Freden of the class of 1923 is secretary to the Graduate Manager of Athletics at Middlebury College.

Ione Passani, '19, is stenographer to Doctor Allen at the Vermont State School in Brandon.

Ernestine Bardi of the class of 1919 is teaching school in Washington, Vt.

Robert Thompson has been elected to membership in three Senior Honorary Societies at U. V. M., Scabbard and Blade, Boulder, and the Honorary Engineering Fraternity.

Donald Rockwell, '23, and Bingham Humphrey, '23, have been elected to Key and Serpent, the Junior Honorary Society at U. V. M.

1916

"The eyes of the world are upon you." When I first heard this statement my curiosity was aroused as to the exact meaning.

When a puzzle like this gets into one's mind it gives no peace until some kind of a solution is worked out.

I think it may be applied to you high school boys and girls. The eyes of the world are upon you and look to you with hope.

You are to fill the places of the men and women of today. And the time will soon be here when you must decide the kind of work you will take up and the place you will fill.

A great many of you are fortunate in being able to prepare yourselves further by going to college. Perhaps a smaller group of you, for various reasons, are forced to take your place in the ranks immediately.

The fact that you are unable to go to college is no reason for despair as this does not necessarily mean that your education must end. Your training will be acquired in a more varied field with more freedom and power of initiative. Perhaps the best way to continue one's education is through reading. It is said, you know, that the public library is the greatest university of modern times.

Everyone has two educations, one which he receives from others and one more important which he gives himself.

ANNA I. McLAUGHLIN, '16.

ENGAGEMENTS

The following engagements have been announced: Ruth Erickson, '18, to Harold Duprey, '18; Lillian Fregosi, '24, to Harry Loyzelle; Flora Young, '22, to Harold Casey; Julia Garrow, '13, to Ernest Allard; Margaret Johnson, '22, to Harold Gates; Mary Poloski, '18, to James Coradon; Marion Flanagan, '16, to Homer Plympton. Siria Serri, '06, a member of our faculty has gone to Carrara, Italy, where she will be married to Edgardo Frediano.

The officers for the coming year of the Alumni Association are: President, Carl Anderson; Secretary and Treasurer, Marion Flanagan.

Although we have not won the Marble Valley League Championship and cup, the team deserves credit for winning five out of seven games so far. Coach Luddington deserves much credit for his work in rounding a team out of so much raw material. The line-up for the season is as follows:

J. Ladabouche, c.
 B. Canapa, p.
 M. Faignant, 1st base
 M. Fay, 2nd base
 R. Swanson, s. s.
 H. Erickson, 3rd base
 H. Gale, l. f.
 Capt. W. Ladabouche, c. f.
 T. Listzwan, r. f.

PROCTOR 3

FAIR HAVEN 4

On Saturday, April 18, Proctor journeyed to Fair Haven to play the veteran Fair Haven nine. The game was close throughout although Proctor was handicapped by the ineligibility of two players and by having a lot of raw material. Canapa pitched a good game and most of the credit for Proctor's showing goes to him. Fair Haven's runs were secured mostly on errors made by Proctor rather than by hits.

PROCTOR 14

PITTSFORD 9

On Saturday, April 25, Proctor easily defeated the strong Pittsford nine at Pittsford. The game was close for the first four innings but after that, Proctor began connecting with Keith's speed ball which resulted in Malher replacing him on the mound. Features of the game were home runs by "Jake" Ladabouche and Malher and triples by Canapa and Capt. W. Ladabouche of Proctor.

PROCTOR 15

MIDDLEBURY 1

On Wednesday, April 29, Proctor defeated Middlebury High School on Porter Field by a score of 15 to 1. Strom pitched a good game for Proctor allowing only two hits and one run. This was the first game in which Proctor's first string line-up had played together.

The game was called off in the seventh inning by Middlebury.

PROCTOR 6

BRANDON 5

On Saturday, May 2, Proctor competed with the Brandon nine at Proctor. The day was cold and it threatened rain at various stages of the game. The game was close throughout, although Canapa was not quite up to form on account of the weather. Bissel pitched a good game for Brandon, retiring many men to the bench. The sensation was furnished in the last half of the ninth when the score was 5 to 4 in favor of Brandon and Faignant secured first base. There were two strikes on Swanson, the snappy shortstop, when he knocked out a triple bringing in Faignant. This followed by a single by Duprey, scoring the winning run.

PITTSFORD 0

On Saturday, May 8, Proctor shut out the Pittsford nine, 9 to 0. Proctor played air-tight ball as well as hitting Keith for hits. Canapa pitched a good game for seven innings but was relieved by Strom in the seventh. Capt. Ladabouche showed up well in this game by knocking out three hits out of five times at bat.

PROCTOR 11

BRANDON 2

On May 13, Proctor met the strong Brandon nine at Forstdale. As Proctor had won by a close margin at Proctor, a good game was expected. After the third inning there was no question of the outcome as the Proctor boys were batting Bissel for numerous hits and Brandon could not seem to connect with Canapa's pitching.

PROCTOR 3

Saturday, May 16, Proctor was defeated by the seasoned Fair Haven nine. Wood pitched a good game for Fair Haven while Canapa hurled well for the home team. The game was a good one, the hits being evenly divided. Capt. "Bill" Ladabouche and "Jake" Ladabouche both secured a double and a triple. The Fair Haven team had an advantage over Proctor by having a team which had played together for practically three years.

CAN YOU IMAGINE:

"Jake", striking out?
 "Joe," not a six footer?
 E. Baccei, not "bossing"?
 D. Anderson, keeping his mouth shut?
 "Toodles", without Ray?
 Sophomore girls, slow?
 "Jimmy" Horan, attending a ball game?
 Gale, hitting a home run?
 "Volley", without a peg leg?
 Tiber, a mechanic?
 The fellow who put these jokes in, putting one in about himself?
 All the jokes getting by the faculty censor, especially the ones about "Dutch Cuts"?
